WHY FRAMELESS

Clean lines. More light. Less to get in the way.

- More light and space — Without bulky frames, a frameless shower opens up the room and shows off your tiling.
- Minimal hardware — Slim hinges and clamps instead of an aluminium framework.
- Easier to keep clean — Fewer frames and tracks to trap water and grime.
- Made to measure — Every frameless shower is individually measured and made to your space. How it works →
- Toughened safety glass — 6–10 mm tempered glass for your safety and compliance.

OUR WORK

Frameless showers we've installed.

CONFIGURATIONS

Frameless, in the shape of your bathroom.

- Shower screen — A single fixed glass panel: open, walk-in, no door.
- Door between 2 walls — A single door fitted into a recess between two walls (alcove).
- Door and 1 panel — A door with one fixed panel alongside, for a wider or returned opening.
- Door and 2 panels — A door with two fixed panels, for wider runs or corner layouts.
- Corner entry — Panels that meet in the corner, with the entrance on the corner.
- Pentagonal — A five-sided corner enclosure with an angled front; space-saving in smaller bathrooms.
- Sliding door — A sliding glass door, ideal where there's no room for a door to swing out.
- Other — An unusual space? Tell us the details and we'll design for it.

HARDWARE FINISHES

Finish it your way.

Hinges, clamps, handles and rails in a choice of finishes — chosen step by step in the configurator.

Polished stainless · Chrome · Brushed stainless · Satin gold · Antique brass · Black

GLASS

Choose your glass.

- Clear — The standard: bright and neutral.
- Low-iron (Opti-white) — Removes the faint green tint of ordinary glass for true clarity.
- Obscure — A textured privacy glass that lets light through while hiding detail.
- Reeded — Vertical fluted lines: on-trend texture with a degree of privacy.
- Grey reeded — The same fluted texture in a soft grey tone.
- Satinato — A smooth, matt, acid-etched finish for full privacy.

Thickness: 6, 8, or 10 mm toughened safety glass, to suit the design.

CUSTOMER STORIES

Trusted across KwaZulu-Natal.

★★★★★ "I asked Shower Haus for a frameless shower door. Within a day someone came out to measure; I had a quote shortly after, and my glass was installed within a week. The team was highly professional and even wore shoe covers to keep the place clean. I'd highly recommend them." — Verified Google review, Durban

★★★★★ "I've used Shower Haus across three home renovations over the past 12 years. Every time the service has been fantastic — from technical recommendations through measuring, manufacture and installation. A professional, efficient company, and fantastic value for superb quality." — Ian Williams, Umhlanga

QUESTIONS

Frameless shower questions, answered.

What is a frameless shower?
A frameless shower uses toughened safety glass held by minimal hardware — slim hinges and clamps — rather than a full aluminium frame. The result is a clean, open look that makes the most of light and space.

Frameless, semi-frameless or framed — what's the difference?
Frameless uses thick 6–10mm glass with minimal hardware. Semi-frameless keeps framing on some edges for support with open glass elsewhere. Framed has a full profile around the panels and door. Compare on our Custom-made Showers page →

Do frameless showers leak?
Installed correctly, no. Accurate measurement, the right seals and a level fit keep water where it should be — which is why every frameless shower we fit is individually measured. Our installations carry a three-month workmanship guarantee against leaks.

Are frameless showers more expensive?
Frameless showers are more expensive than semi-frameless, but they are actually cheaper than framed showers as there are no metal frames around the glass.

How thick is the glass? Is it safe?
Toughened safety glass, usually 6, 8, or 10mm for a frameless shower depending on the size of the panels.

Are frameless showers hard to clean?
The opposite — with fewer frames and tracks, there's far less to trap water and grime, so routine cleaning keeps the glass clear.

Can you do sandblasted or etched glass designs?
We don't sandblast in-house, but we can arrange it — we work with a trusted specialist nearby and can send your glass out for sandblasting.

Do frameless showers add value to my home?
A well-made frameless shower is a strong selling point in a modern bathroom, thanks to the clean, high-quality finish.

How long does it take?
About 10–12 working days from deposit to installation, depending on the time of year, workload at the glass factories, and workload across our installation teams.

Do you install across KZN?
Yes — across Durban and KwaZulu-Natal. On-site consultations within roughly 50 km of our Springfield showroom are free; a call-out fee applies further afield. Long-distance installations also attract a surcharge which is individually calculated depending on operational impact the job will have.
